

The Past and Future of Immigration

With a Power Point presentation, Mr. McMillan takes us on a journey about the history of people from around the world who chose to migrate to the United States. The presentation also covers the details of the controversial Immigration Law in Arizona and lays out The Supreme Court's decision regarding that law. From there he covers current issues drawing significant media attention, including the status of immigration issues in the Congress.

Should our borders be made secure? Should illegal aliens be given amnesty and be permitted to remain in the United States? Mr. McMillan also covers the legal issues surrounding the employment of illegal immigrants, along with questions about the enforcement of such laws.

Who were the first legal immigrants to the United States? And how did our immigration laws evolve over the last two hundred years? There is probably no area in the public arena which will get more attention over the next few years, and his presentation objectively reviews the issues, along with some personal points of view.
