

Presidents, Foreign Policy and Fun Vignettes

Mixed with a little of his own personal philosophy and humor, the presentation has enabled Robert McMillan to express himself in a Power Point presentation, on topics ranging from coming face-to-face with Marilyn Monroe in Korea to a portion of an interview, on his TV show, with Senator Hillary Clinton, and from a private meeting with President Dwight David Eisenhower to Vietnam and Iraq.

Mr. McMillan worked with three Presidents (Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan and George H. W. Bush), and United States Senator Kenneth B. Keating, at the start of the Cuban Missile Crisis, an issue in which he was one of the direct participants. He covers significant current events issues, American history, international relations, and politics from an insider's point of view.

The presentation also covers a private audience with Pope John Paul, II, and a video commercial of Ronald Reagan endorsing McMillan for the United States Senate in 1988. As an attorney, Mr. McMillan represented Bill Joel and the East End Bay Men after all were ticketed for haul seining striped bass. The story provides an interesting insight into the life of Billy Joel.

In addition, the presentation covers Mr. McMillan's role as Chairman of the Panama Canal Commission and interesting foot notes about his work for former Presidents, Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, Bill Clinton and George H. W. Bush.
